

Long-Term Millbank Partnership Pays Dividends for Global Nuclear Contractor

Location - UK Wide

Services provided - Key recruitment partner across various specialist contractor roles

The client is an engineering services contractor to the Nuclear, Defence, Marine, Oil & Gas and other Industrial industries. Then operate in all areas across the UK and have offices across the globe. Millbank is their recruitment partner supporting their Nuclear and Defence businesses.

What did the Client need

We have supported this client for many years. There was an upturn in work due to several project awards and they needed to increase headcount across their teams and bring in specialist contractor services. These requirements were based in Cumbria, Lancashire, Yorkshire, Devon and other UK locations.

“

I have been really impressed with the way Sean and his team operate. They've helped us with roles we've struggled with in a seamless manner, without dropouts or candidates rates going up after interview.

What was Millbank's solution

Millbank were quick to respond to all new requirements released during this upturn in work and this led to finding and placing candidates covering: HSEQ, Commercial Management/Quantity Surveying, Mechanical Design & Engineering, Electrical, Control & Instrumentation Design & Engineering, Construction Management, Project Management, Project Controls and Support.

Placements were made in all office locations required.

Summary

Thanks to our extensive background sourcing within the nuclear industry, we were able to quickly deliver successful candidates to a leading supplier of services to the nuclear industry for their upturn in work.

We continue to be one of their top suppliers and hope for this to continue for years to come.
